This looks amazing! Keep on the good work

From Coin Reference we want to thank all our readers and the entire Polkadot, Kusama & Astar community for the good reception to the magazine, thank you very much!

Our team continues to collect feedback from you, our readers, to make the magazine better and better and provide the best possible information for all of you.

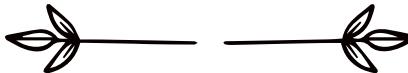

The latest changes in the magazine are the following:

- Added publication date
- Added Index
- Interviews to extend the explanation of our news
- Links page in case any reader wants to extend and expand their knowledge about any news

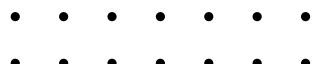

We keep working and we love that you leave us your opinion to continue improving!

POLKADOT ACADEMY

The Academy was founded by Gavin Wood and is run by leading engineers from the Polkadot ecosystem, Parity Tech, and the Web3 Foundation. It's a pioneering course equipping engineers with the knowledge needed to build blockchains.

The Academy is a 4-week academic in-person program covering both foundational theoretical concepts and practical programming knowledge.

EVENTS

APAC HACKATHON

The Polkadot team has already announced The Polkadot Hackathon Global Series: APAC Edition 2023! It's a very interesting opportunity to be at the forefront of blockchain innovation across 5 themes: Interfaces & Experiences, ink! Smart Contracts, Web3 & Tooling, XCM Integration, and Mass Adoption

When: 3-23 July 2023
→ More info to register

CERES JOINS #BUILD2EARN PROGRAM

Great news for the ASTAR & SORA ecosystems! Ceres one of the contributors to the SORA network has joined the Astar builder program, in addition to the dApp staking program!

CERES will accelerate collaborations and development between ASTAR and SORA to bring you awesome tools! Now you can stake your $ASTR tokens on the Astar portal to help the CERES team

AAA GUIDE & ROADMAP

AAA GUIDE & ROADMAP

Mind-blowing season 2 of Ajuna Avatars, launching on July 28, 2023, will bring the introduction of On-Chain Ajuna Missions, which will launch in September 2023 new features. They also include the creation of generic item representations, a template for third-party equipment and usability through NFT in missions. Read more in links section

ALL THING BTC IN TOP POLKADOT

Interlay, a decentralized blockchain network, rolled out a new platform on Wednesday that it describes as a “one-stop-shop” for Bitcoin decentralized finance (DeFi).

The platform features a decentralized exchange (DEX) and a lending protocol, both integrated with Interlay’s existing DeFi bridge – a system connecting multiple blockchains – that was launched last year and is powered by the wrapped token InterBTC (iBTC).

AJUNA

AJUNA X POLYCRYPT

Ayuna is partnering with PolyCrypt to work on the launch of an NFT Cross-Chain Bridge that will allow you to move all your game assets across any blockchain.

SPACERS NFT MINT

All Spacer Pods have opened, and Spacers are viewable on the Singular NFT marketplace, powered by RMRK

Items were minted into Spacers, but were not automatically equipped. You will need to equip the items manually via the "View inventory" button!

INTEGRATION ANNOUNCEMENT

$D20, a native Polkadot stablecoin powered by DAM_Finance is now available on Qoda.

You can now use your $D20 tokens as collateral on Qoda's MoonbeamNetwork deployment.

CERES TOOLS NEW FEATURES

Whats new in new Ceres tools update?

- Extended Farming section
- $VAL Burning Tracker is finally live
- Every token has a live supply tracker
- Portfolio feature tracking wallet's holdings
- CeresPolkaswap Telegram bot in a new version

The image features a dark background with a purple and red abstract geometric pattern. On the left, there is a decorative wreath of leaves. In the center, the Ceres Tools logo is displayed, consisting of a stylized woman's face icon and the text "ceres TOOLS". Below the logo, the words "New Features" are written in large, bold, white and pink letters. At the bottom, there are download links: "GET IT ON Google Play" and "Available on the App Store". To the right, a screenshot of the Ceres Tools mobile application is shown. The app interface includes a header with the time (11:16), date (Wednesday, June 22), and battery level (80%). Below the header are tabs for "Portfolio", "Staking", "Rewards", and "Liquidity". The main screen displays a "Total Value" of $3,001.397 across three time periods: 24h, 7d, and 30d. A table below shows the value of various tokens:

Token	Price	Balance	Change
Ether (ETH)	$795.254	0.448	-0.2%
SORA (SORA)	$577.813	2,594.906	0.65%
Ceres (CERES)	$540.242	50.701	1.09%
SORA Validator Token (VAL)	$500.332	3,505.811	0.67%

CFG IN STELLASWAP

$CFG is coming to Moonbeam Network!

After 3 months of hard work across Centrifuge & Moonbeam governance, StellaSwap is now ready to launch the highly anticipated $CFG - $DOT farm and be able to trade $CFG on StellaSwap

POLKASWAP

V.1.17.0

Polkaswap V.1.17.0 is now live!

New Features:

- Price alerts
- Bridge UI simplification & improvements
- Removed "~" for fiat values and adjusted the disclaimer
- Improved getting network fees logic based on runtime upgrades & fee multiplier

INTERVIEW

APILLON INTERVIEW - OPEN INFRASTRUCTURE

Q: WHAT DO YOU SEE IN THE POLKADOT INFRASTRUCTURE AND NOT IN ANOTHER CHAIN?

A: Since Polkadot is the only network completely aligned with our vision and mission statements, and already provides a set of exemplary parachains solutions. Polkadot is a “blockchain of blockchains,” allowing many different types of chains to work and interact securely together within the same ecosystem. The network has already contributed great promise and significant progress by encouraging individual sovereignty over personal and business data. And more importantly, the integration of diverse parachains into a scalable and flexible network set a new standard for Web3 builders. The Polkadot network is becoming the forefront of a scalable Web3 universe-building and mass adoption of blockchain – by connecting different blockchains into one unified network. Unlike layer-1 blockchains, layer 0 of Polkadot allows for multiple layer-1 blockchains to be built on top of it. The Polkadot team even created a framework called Substrate, where developers can build blockchains that work independently from one another. It's a win-win situation: Parachains have more flexibility in building the architecture and therefore contribute better, more specialized services with improved efficiency. Polkadot as an ecosystem offers higher scalability by processing transactions on different chains in parallel and gives way for more innovation due to more specialized parachains. We believe Polkadot is the synonym for the Web3 future.

Q: FOR OUR READERS, WHAT BENEFITS WILL THE APILLON PLATFORM BRING TO THE POLKADOT ECOSYSTEM?

A: The Apillon platform improves the Polkadot network and the Web3 sphere with:

- Easy access to Polkadot-based technologies and tools for both seasoned and rookie developers
- Faster, easier, and cheaper engineering process in the Polkadot ecosystem
- Greater number of tangible application-layer products
- Opportunity to build multi-chain decentralized solutions beyond asset transactions -
- Community control over currently centralized parts of the platform

Q: WHAT BENEFITS DOES AN OPEN INFRASTRUCTURE BRING TO APILLON?

A: A common good and open-source approach addresses Polkadot's need for a use case that benefits projects and users across the whole ecosystem.

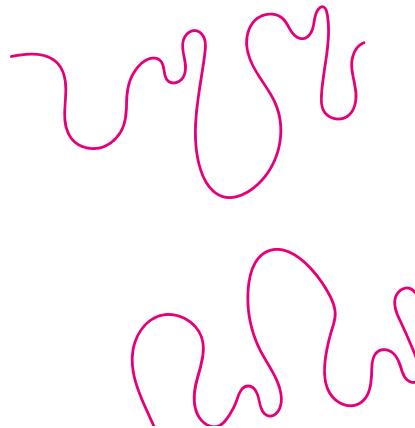

With many new protocol-layer projects regularly developed on Polkadot, the ecosystem now needs an application-layer product if developers, even outside the Polkadot sphere, are to start building Web3 projects on Polkadot at a mainstream level. An open infrastructure brings several significant benefits to Apillon. In short, an open infrastructure brings the advantages of community collaboration, transparency, accessibility, rapid innovation, and scalability to Apillon. By embracing an open-source approach, Apillon can harness the collective efforts of the community, build trust, and create a more inclusive and vibrant ecosystem for Web3 development.
